WESTERLY MAN'S LONG SERVICE

William B. Austin, for Forty Years Treasurer and Secretary of Granite Works, Resigns—Repairs to Telephone Service—Report of Baptist Anniversaries—Fine and Jail Sentence for Violating Liquor Law.

For the first time since the Christmas night storm there was telephonic communication between Westerly and New York Wednesday morning. Over 75 per cent. of the service of the Westerly Automatic Telephone company is now in good working order, and it is expected that the complete service will be available by the end of the week. The repair work is being done out from the center to where the service has connection with the Southern New England Telephone company, and this connection is lacking to give service to Providence, Boston and the east. As much of the wire is underground, the Westerly Automatic Telephone company sustained slight damage in comparison with the like territory covered by other companies or branches.

The Lorraine Manufacturing company of Pawtucket, with branch mill in Pawcatuck, town of Stonington, has increased its capitalization from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000. The increase was authorized at a special meeting of the stockholders held Monday night, which 12,500 of the 15,000 shares were represented. The meeting voted to maintain its preferred stock of $150,000 as at present, but voted to increase the common stock from $1,500,000 to $3,000,000.

The Lorraine company was organized in 1936 with a capital stock of $1,250,000. In 1903 it increased its capitalization to $2,000,000. In explanation of the increase an officer of the company said that simply more money was needed with which to carry on their

After forty years of faithful service William B. Austin retires as treasurer and secretary of the New England Granite works. His resignation was accepted Wednesday and was entirely voluntary. He first entered the employ of the concern as timekeeper and bookkeeper Sept. 20, 1869, and in August, 1875, was appointed head bookkeeper. In 1901, after the death of James G. Batterson, Sr. and when the main office was removed from Hartford to Westerly, Mr. Austin was chosen treasurer and secretary, and held that office until Wednesday, when he retired.

BETTER HARTFORD DIVIDENDS.
Fire Companies Expect to Mend Losses Sustained at San Francisco.

It is expected that the dividends to be declared by the Hartford fire insurance companies at the end of this year will go a long way towards repaying the stockholders for the sacrifices entailed in the San Francisco fire. At that time the prices for fire insurance stocks dropped heavily. In some cases dividends were omitted, and in others additional capital was called in, either to increase the capital stock or to reduce it and subsequently issuing new stock.

One company has already issued $100,000 of new stock at 200 and has increased its dividends of 16 per cent. will be continued after the new capital comes in. This is worth more or less of 30 a share in the value of rights. Another has already increased its dividend rate to 14 per cent., and no further increase is expected.

It is rumored, however, that three others will declare increased dividends January 1.

The world's production of copper in 1908 was 739,000 tons, the highest known for any one year, showing an increase of 36,000 tons over the year before. This increase is almost entirely due to the output of the United States, which country in 1908 produced 619,000 tons, whereas all the rest of America contributed 120,000 tons; Europe, 48,000 tons; Japan, 48,000 tons, and Australia, 40,000 tons.

The commissioner finds that the growth of these associations has been retarded through distrust occasioned by the fact that many of the so-called national associations whose promises of large profits were not realized. These are not now doing business in the state and the good showing of the state associations is expected to restore the confidence of the public. The dividends paid by the associations average 5 per cent. and a threatened reduction in the rate of interest paid by savings banks should encourage investment in these organizations.

Commissioner Corbin says that an increased membership may be looked for now that business conditions are better and he expects that the interest already shown by the result in applications for charters by new associations at the next legislative session.

Naming a State.
There are some restless spirits in the southern part of California who want a new state made of that section but they are not alone. The good showing of the state associations is expected to restore the confidence of the public. The dividends paid by the associations average 5 per cent. and a threatened reduction in the rate of interest paid by savings banks should encourage investment in these organizations.

Commissioner Corbin says that an increased membership may be looked for now that business conditions are better and he expects that the interest already shown by the result in applications for charters by new associations at the next legislative session.
